

Satellite radio is the best possible thing that could be offered to those of us who are fed up with network radio stations full of commercial breaks and mainstream pop music. It is such a blessing to be able to listen to whatever music, news, or talk radio that strikes one's fancy without being "invaded" by noise. The new addition of traffic and weather channels is an even more convenient feature. Please count me in as one of XM radio's biggest fans, and PLEASE don't let anything get in the way of this wonderful ability to choose!
